INSTRUCTIONS
(Read ALL Instructions Before Completing Form)

1. Application for relief from the findings or sentence, or both, of a court-martial case which has been finally reviewed, but has not been reviewed by the United States Army Court of Military Review (formerly Board of Review) is governed by Chapter 14, Army Regulation 27-10, which is summarized in these instructions.

2. Article 69(b) of the Uniform Code of Military Justice (Title 10, US Code, Section 869(b)) provides that: "The findings or sentence, or both, in a court-martial case not reviewed under subsection (a) or under section 866 of this title (Article 66) may be modified or set aside, in whole or in part, by the Judge Advocate General on the ground of newly discovered evidence, fraud on the court, lack of jurisdiction over the accused or the offense, error prejudicial to the substantial rights of the accused, or the appropriateness of the sentence."

3. Relief is authorized only when (1) the post-trial process of legal review of the case has been completed, and (2) at least one of the five grounds set forth in paragraph 2 above has been established to the satisfaction of The Judge Advocate General. Application for relief on the ground of sentence appropriateness normally will not be considered if the application is based solely on the quality of the behavior or duty performance of the convicted person after trial, or on any evidence of personal hardship not admitted at trial. For other avenues of relief, see Title 10, U.S. Code, Section 874 (Article 74, UCMJ) or 32 CFR 581.3 (Army Board for the Correction of Military Records).

4. Except as provided in this paragraph, the application must be signed by the individual convicted by court-martial. In those cases where the individual is deceased, incapable of making application, or whose whereabouts are unknown, The Judge Advocate General may permit application to be made by such person as he/she determines to be competent and suitable, and to have a proper interest therein, including, but not limited to, a spouse, parent, or relative of the person convicted by court-martial substantially affected as a result of the findings or sentence, or both, which the applicant maintains should be vacated or modified. If application is not signed by the individual convicted, full explanation should be made and attached.

5. The application must be submitted under oath or affirmation executed before an official authorized to administer oaths. A notary public is usually authorized to perform this function. Military personnel on active duty may execute the application before a judge advocate or other officer authorized by Article 136(a) of the Uniform Code of Military Justice to administer oaths. Knowingly making a false statement in connection with an application for relief can be punished by a $10,000 fine, five years imprisonment, or both.

6. Applicant's entry in Item 11 should describe the reasons for the request for relief. Relevant facts which support the applicant's contentions should be included. Legal authorities may be presented in this section, or may be attached in the form of a legal brief, if applicant desires. Other matters tending to support applicant's allegations of error or impropriety, including but not limited to, sworn affidavits, official records, and other documents, may be attached. The applicant bears the burden of establishing an alleged impropriety. Unsupported allegations of matters outside the record of trial will seldom be sufficient to warrant relief.

7. A copy of the court-martial order (or the record of trial in the case of a summary court-martial) promulgating the findings, sentence, and action of the convening authority in the case, and a copy of any later modifying order(s), if available to the applicant, should be submitted with the application.

8. A copy of the record of trial in cases other than summary courts-martial should not be submitted.

9. If the applicant is a member of the command which convened the court-martial, or of a unit within the same general court-martial jurisdiction, the application should be submitted through the Office of the Staff Judge Advocate of that general court-martial jurisdiction. In all other cases, applications will be submitted directly to Office of The Judge Advocate General, ATTN: Criminal Law Division, 1777 North Kent Street, Rosslyn, Virginia 22209-2194 and must be received on or before the last day of the 2-year period beginning on the date the sentence was approved by the convening authority. Failure to file within the prescribed time may be excused by The Judge Advocate General of good cause established by the applicant.

10. Submit only the original of this form.

11. Type, or print all entries in ink.

12. If space allotted is insufficient, attach additional sheet(s), indicating item number continued thereon.

13. Complete all items; if inapplicable, enter "None".

14. Applicant should send notice of change in address while application is pending to The Judge Advocate General at the address shown in instruction 9 above.

15. Applicant will be notified of receipt of application by The Judge Advocate General, and the result of review, when completed.
